PHOEBE STEWART CARTER & SAARA KNAPP

2022 CATALOGUE

HIGH QUALITY LIMITED EDITION PRINTS

Curators note

Dastaangoi Gallery's The North invites the viewer to witness the stories that Pakistan's breathtaking landscapes and mountains hold. These stories showcase the effects that climate change is having on our natural environment - with glaciers that used to be present on most of these mountains slowly withering away, causing calamities both in Pakistan and beyond. But they also tell more personal stories, of love and perseverance, and of all the people that have come and gone, like our beloved Ali Sadpara and many others like him.

The North follows four incredible artists, Austrian painter Louis Szapary, Finnish-American painter Saara Knapp, British painter Phoebe Stewart Carter, and American painter Brandon Schaefer, along with the Dastaangoi team, to get a unique perspective around these stories.

The North is a first of its kind exhibition that will truly take you beyond the paint and move you in ways you did not anticipate.

Phoebe Stewart Carter

Phoebe was born in Gloucestershire, England, and grew up between the UK and Maryland, USA. Phoebe began drawing and painting at a young age but felt the need to understand the medium technically before expressively.

In 2017 she joined artist Nick Beer in his studio in Salisbury, England. While in Salisbury she was introduced to academic drawing techniques that were taught through the 19th century. Being determined to further her education, she travelled to Italy in 2018 to begin intensive training at the Florence Academy of Art (FAA). Phoebe is currently living in Gloucestershire, England as an independent artist.
